Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Culture & Society

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Social Groups

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Background

- Man – "Social animal" – any individual has a tendency to live in groups

- In order to survive and satisfy different needs – man develops or lives in various types of assemblages

- These assemblages are Social groups

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Meaning of Social Group

- A collection of human beings who are brought in to social relationship with one another
- A social relationship is a reciprocal relationship
- The essence of social group is not just physical proximity, but interaction between the members.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics of Social Groups

1. Reciprocal Relationship
2. Sense of Unity
3. Common Interests
4. Similar Behavior
5. Group Norms

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Classification of Social Groups

- Dwight Sanderson
  - Voluntary
  - Involuntary
  - Delegate Groups

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Classification of Social Groups

- George Hassen
  - Unsocial
  - Pseudo Social
  - Anti Social
  - Pro Social

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Classification of Social Groups

- Ferdinand Tonnies
  - Gameinschaft (Community)
  - Gassellschaft (Association)
- Charles H. Cooley
  - Primary and Secondary Groups
- W.G. Sumner
  - In groups & Out Groups
- Kinship Based & Non Kinship Based

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Importance of Studying Social Groups

1. Social groups, however small, deeply affect the society
2. Man's sociable nature can only be understood in a social group – social because of need and nature
3. Easier to understand society through social groups – they are microcosms of larger societies
4. Social psychology can be best understood in a social group

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Primary & Secondary Groups

Charles H. Cooley

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Meaning of Primary Group

- Nucleus of social organization
- Intimate face to face relations
- "Primary" – Fundamental in framing the social nature of man"
- High "we-feeling"
- Intimate association of members – Psychological fusion of individuals
- Recognition, Wantedness & Acceptance

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics of Primary Groups

1. Physical Proximity (???)
2. Stability
3. Similarity of Background
4. Limited Self-Interest

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Importance of Primary Groups

1. Provision of stimulus
2. Spontaneous living
3. Nurseries of human nature

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Meaning of Secondary Groups

- Groups lacking in intimacy are secondary groups
- Any group which is not a primary group is a secondary group

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics of Secondary Groups

1. Formal and impersonal relationships
2. Large in size
3. Voluntary membership
4. Formalization of rules

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Importance of Secondary Groups

1. Division of Labor
2. Higher Efficiency
3. Provision of New Channels of Opportunity
4. Competition

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Community

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Background

- Just because man is a social animal he cannot established social relationships with everyone in the world
- At the same time, people living in a locality, over a period of time, develop social likeness, traditions and sentiments
- These two social facts give rise to the concept of community

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Definition

- Community is a group of people living in a common territory and sharing some common community sentiments.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

1. A group of people – sharing basic criteria of life
2. Locality
3. Community Sentiments
4. Permanency

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

5. Likeness
6. Wider Ends – "Hallmark of community"
7. Particular name – Gives identity / points personality
8. No legal status

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

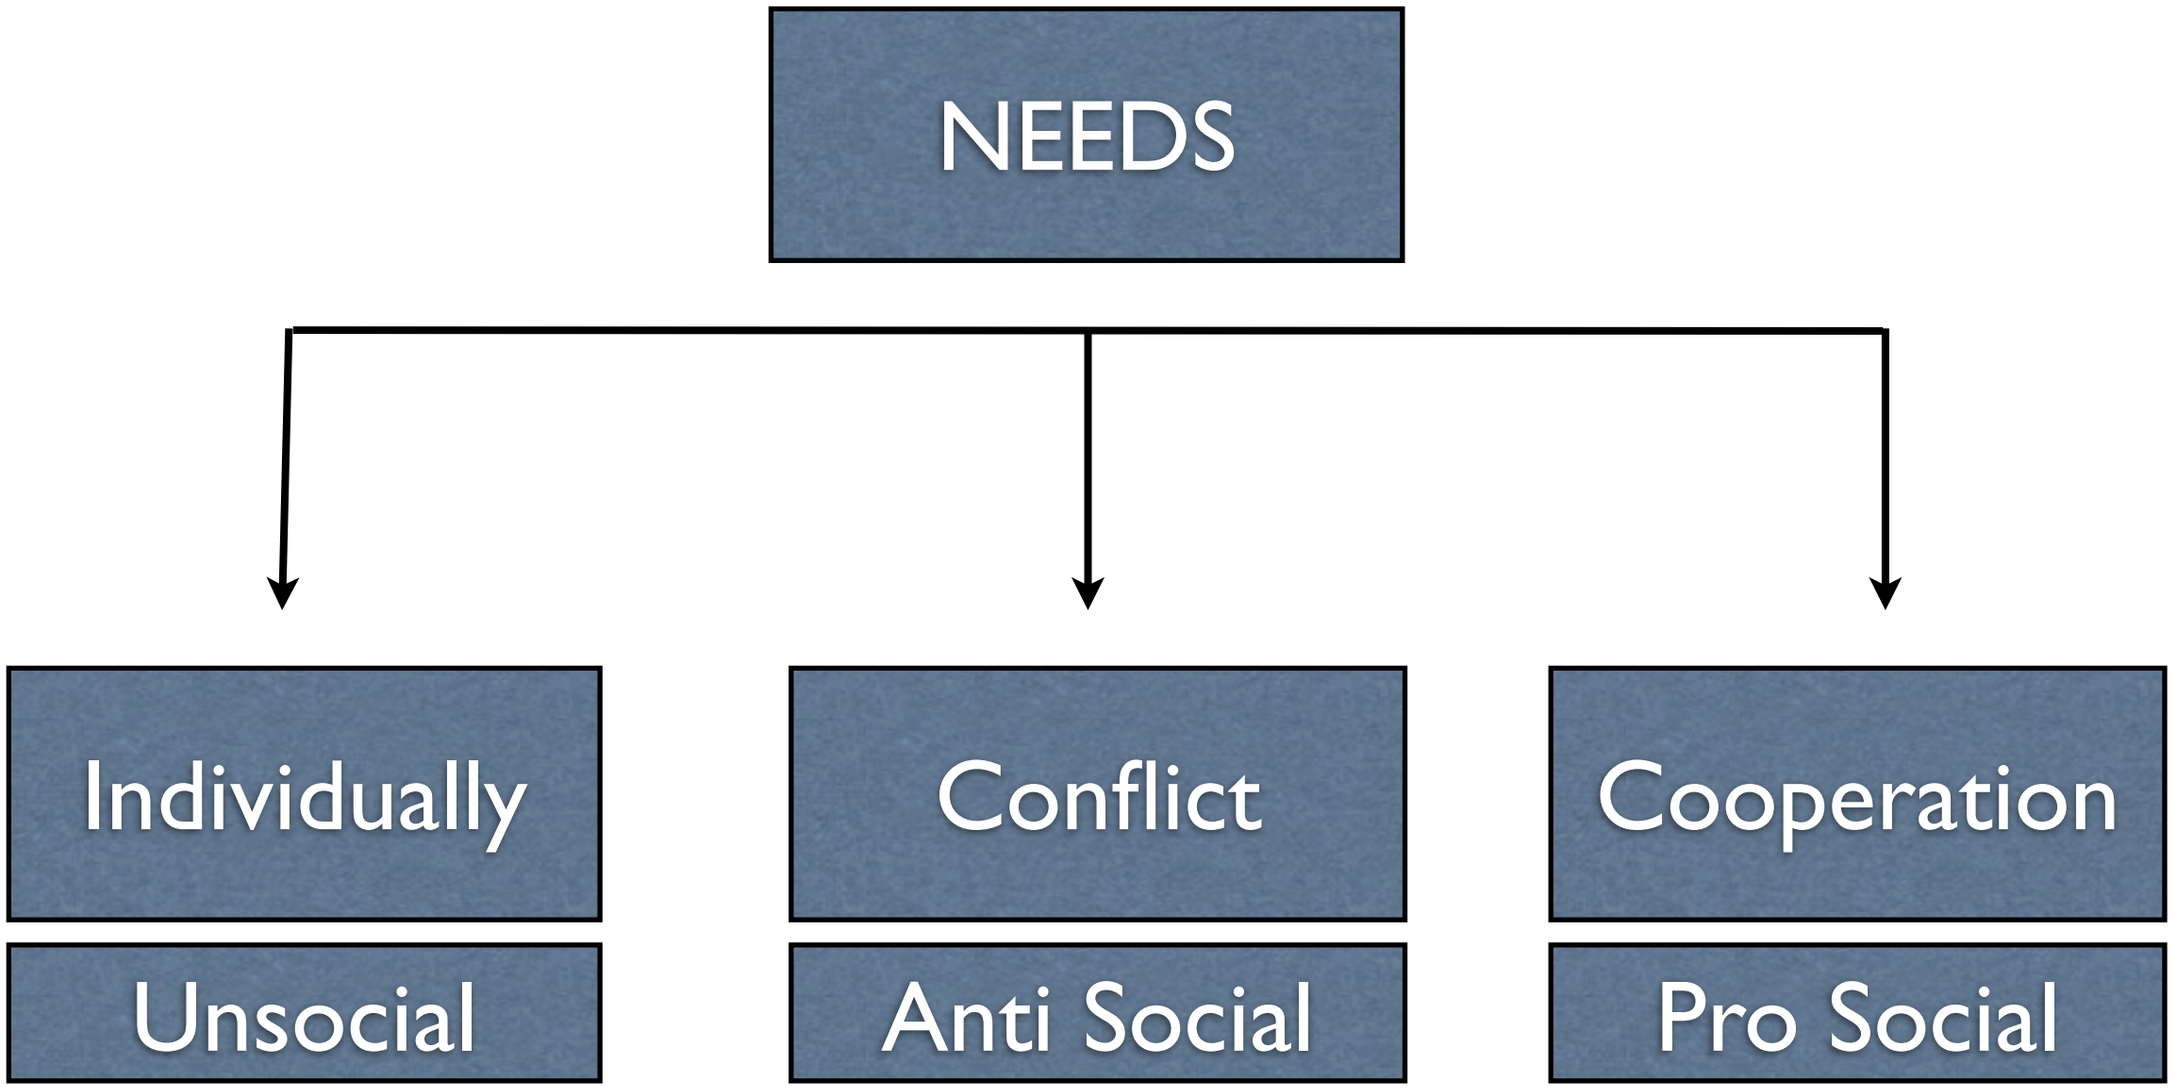

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Association

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Background

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Definition

- Association is a group of individuals who are organized together in pursuit of a common objective

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

1. Concrete form of organization
2. Established
3. Determined Aims
4. Compliance to rules is mandatory

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Factors for Growth

1. Role of Interests - especially when there is a recognized common interest
2. Heterogeneous/Specialized community
3. Role of leadership - To overcome inertia, prejudices and problems

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Social Institutions

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Introduction to Social Institutions

- In common parlance people often use the word "Institution" to mean an organization with some specific purpose, as public or charitable institution.
- Sometimes it is used to denote any set of people in organized interaction as a family or club or government.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Definitions

- McIver -"Established forms or conditions of procedure characteristic of group activity".
- Ginsberg - "Institutions are definite and sanctioned forms or modes of relationship between social beings in respect to one another or to some external object".

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Meaning

- Social institutions are integrated around a principal function of the society.
- An institution is an organized form of customs, dogmas, rituals and procedures.
- These usages and rules may be given the name of institutions.
- They are the forms of procedures which are recognized and accepted by society and govern the relations between individual and groups.
- Thus marriage, education and religion are main institutions.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

1. Every institution is characterized by some definite objectives.
2. Every institution is characterized by certain rules which it enjoins upon every individual in the society.
3. Every institution is characterized by certain definite procedures. These procedures are formulated on the basis of customs and dogmas in the society which every individual shares.
4. An institution depends on the collective activities of people.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

5. Institutions are a means of controlling people in the society.
6. Institution is usually symbolic. This means, the institutional aspect is not concrete but works through symbolism in any society.
7. Institutions are means of social control in a society.
8. Institutions fulfill the needs of individual in a society.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Importance of Institutions

- The survival of the society depends largely on the proper working of culture. Institutions ensure proper working of culture.
- It is through the medium of an institution that in any society the morals, ideals, knowledge and modes of behavior are transferred from one generation to the other.
- An institution entertains unity of human behavior because it indicates the right path every individual has to follow in the society and it also imposes control over human behavior.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Types of Institutions

- Five Primary Social Institutions

1. Family
2. Economy
3. Religion
4. Education
5. State

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Types of Institutions

- Secondary Institutions are derived from Primary Institutions
  - Family - Marriage, Divorce etc.
  - Economy - Trade, Banking, Profit etc.
  - Religion - Church, Temple, Taboo etc.
  - Education - School, Examinations etc.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Ways of Studying Institutions

- Historical Approach (helps us to understand their evolution)
- Comparative Study (diversity and similarity)
- Functionalism and Interrelationships (simplifies the understanding of society's organization)

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Conclusion

- An institution never becomes extinct.
- New institutional norms may replace the old norms, but the institution goes on, at least in the minds of the people.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Society

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Introduction

- Humans express their nature by not any instinctive responses to social or physical stimuli
- They create an organization that guides and controls their behavior in myriad ways
- This organization created by men both liberates and controls their activities and and sets standards for them to follow
- This ever-changing complex system is called “Society”
- McIver calls this “A web of social relationships”

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Nature of Society

- Functional: A society is a complex of groups in reciprocal relationship, interacting with each other and fulfilling the needs of every individual
- Structural: A society is a sum total of all institutions, social heritage, customs, laws, habits, beliefs and ideals (the entire culture) guiding and controlling behavior of men in numerous ways
- Processual: A society is a process of stimulus-response relationship where interaction , communication and consensus are the core of its working. These interactions ultimately shape the attitude and behavior of participants.

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Characteristics

- Society involves likeness
  - A consciousness of kind
  - Belonging together
- Society involves differences
  - Results in reciprocity
  - Social division of labor
- Differences are subordinate to likeness
  - Cooperation before division
  - Primary likeness and secondary difference leads to social organization

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Elements of Society

1. Usages: concerning marriage, religion etc., which are different from society to society
2. Procedures: Modes of action to maintain its unity
3. Authority: To maintain order
4. Mutual Aid: A feeling for its stability
5. Groups: Like family, village etc.
6. Controls: Maintain organization
7. Liberty: For development of personality

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com

Functional Pre-Requisites

1. Provision of fulfillment of basic needs
2. Coordination of human activities & Division of Labor
3. Replacement of members through procreation
4. Socialization
5. Meaningfulness of social goals

Download all form :- www.UPSCPDF.com